NEW LIBRARY OF OLD AUTHORS,

SELECT STANDARD FICTION.

During the last few years there has been an increasing demand for the productions of our early writers, and the taste has been strowing without a corresponding attempt to gratify it; such reprints of early popular authors as have appeared in this country, are published with much diversity of plan, and in every variety of size. It is with the rises of meeting this demand, in a uniform size and style, that the present writes of books, the names of which are as familiar as nonsehold words, has been undertaken. The publishers hope and expect that the enterprise will meet the hearty concurrence of the book-buying public.

EDITED BY HIS WIDOW.

WITH A PORTRAIT ENGRAVED ON STEEL.

One Volume, Svo. Price, $2.50.

This "MEMORIAL VOLUME" owes its title to a suggestion of an old and particular friend of Bishop Wainwright, the venerable Bishop of Connecticut.

The Funeral Address, now published by special request, was preached by an associate and fellow laborer, whose respect and affection for the Bishop were the growth of an almost daily intercourse of twenty years.

The task of conducting the Volume through the Press was committed to the Rev. Dr. J. A. Spencer, who, with filial reverence, has faithfully devoted his excellent taste and judgment to its accomplishment. And the publication is hallowed to every true heart by the tender and ever watchful care and oversight of one whose all of life is bound up with the Sacred Memory of the departed—Extract from Preface.

A YTOUN'S NEW POEM.

BOTHWELL.

By W. EDMONDSTOUNE AYTOUN, D. C. L.,

Author of "Lays of the Scottish Cavaliers," "Bon Gaultier's Ballada," &c.

The London Morning News says: "It is a fresh, manly, vigorous and wholesome poem. The verse in which this story is embodied has a wild, rough music of its own, a music which rings on our ear like martial trump or pibroch's summons, a music possessing such refreshing and invigorating qualities that, listening to it, we forget the dull, dusty streets and close atmosphere in which we are existing, and seem to feel the glorious highland air blowing on our forehead, and to scent the delicious odor of the heather rising up at every footfall."

BURTON'S PILGRIMAGE TO MECCA AND THE TOMB
OF THE PROPHET.

With Introduction by BAYARD TAYLOR.

1 vol., 12mo., with Illustrations. $1.50.

The history of this curious book is as follows:
Burton, an officer of the East India Company, having, by a long residence in Upper India, acquired a perfect knowledge of the Orieural languages and customs, projected a visit under the anspices of the Rayal Goographical Society, to the Holy City of Mecca, and the Tomb of the Prophet at Medinah, places rarely, if ever before visited by any Englishman. This he successfully accomplished in 1835-6, disguised as a Mohammedan Dervisa. The history of the plagrimage is not surpassed in interest and originality by any book of travel ever published—embracing his rendence at Cairo as Mohammedan Student, the journey across the desert with the great annual caravan of Pligrims; the visit to the tomb of Mohammed; the discovery that the sarred black stone of Mecca is an serolite; the annual sermon preached at Mecca to an estimated audience of 150,000 Pligrims, gathered from all parts of the Mosiem world; his narrow escapes from detection, and the only accurate account of the ceremonies of the Museulman faith.

To the religious community this work furnishes information never before made public, respecting the ceremonial laws of a large proportion of the population of the Eastern world; while the Museulman faith.

To the religious community this work furnishes information never before made public, respecting the ceremonial laws of a large proportion of the population of the Eastern world; while for general interest Burton's narrative will compare favorably with either Eothen, or Crescent and the Cross.
